Arab France by Ian Coller - Paperback - University of ...

"Ian Coller's fascinating book explores the making of modern France during the Napoleonic period and under the Restoration 'from the outside inward'. He examines the life of Arab migrants in France: their role as outsiders, and victims, but also as participants in the creation of the modern nation and its empire. In the process he also throws much light on the history of the contemporary Arab Middle East and North Africa." C.A. Bayly, University of Cambridge

Arab France: Islam and the Making of Modern Europe, 1798 ...

Coller's study explores the Arab presence in France in the early 19th century. Through detailed attention to an eclectic source base, Coller reconstructs the movements, cultural expressions, and political possibilities of diverse communities of Egyptians who migrated to France after Napoleon's attempted conquest of Egypt. Coller argues that the experiences and exchanges of these people helped make an Arab France , which he describes as a space of mobility, negotiation and shifting
